

Non-RoHS-Compliant Products

Dear Valued Customers:

Thank you very much for your continued patronage.

We would like to inform you that several HIOKI products do not comply with the Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) Directive. We ask for your understanding and cooperation.

1. Complying with the RoHS Directive (2011/65/EU)

The RoHS Recast Directive (2011/65/EU) (hereafter referred to as “RoHS 2”) was published in the Official Journal of the European Union on July 1, 2011, and takes effect on July 14, 2014. Although monitoring and control equipment as well as medical devices are listed as exemptions in the primary RoHS Directive (2002/95/EC), these products are subject to the restrictions of RoHS 2. Electrical measuring instruments including our products are also subject to RoHS 2 restrictions. In preparation for the eventual enforcement of RoHS 2, we have attempted to bring all of our products into compliance with RoHS 2.

2. Action on Our Products

We have determined that the products listed in Exhibit 1 do not comply with RoHS 2. The reason is attributed to difficulties in procuring alternative components, which are installed in our products, that do not contain the six hazardous materials that are specified as hazardous chemical substances. As a result, the listed products will be categorized as non-CE marked products. Although the products do not comply with RoHS 2 (or CE marking requirements), some products that have heretofore complied with the Low Voltage and EMC Directives continue to comply with those directives as they have done in the past.

3. Non-RoHS-Compliant Products

Please refer to Exhibit 1, “Non-RoHS-Compliant Products”.

4. Effective Date

Units shipped from the Hioki factory on July 1, 2014
